NECK & BACK

Comprehensive Rehabilitation

25% of people in the United States report having pain within the past 3 months. Spinal, neck or back pain may spontaneously resolve or become recurrent or even chronic, leading to a decrease in quality of life. Symptoms are variable and may include dull aching, burning, or sharp. The location of your pain may also vary from a single point to a large area. Spine patients often complain of muscle spasms, stiffness or pain radiating into the arms or leg.

Some Spinal Conditions

- Cervical Fusion
- Degenerative Disc Disease
- Disc Replacement
- Herniated Discs
- Laminectomy
- Steroid Injection
- Lumbar Disc Surgery
- Scoliosis
- Spinal Fusion
- Spinal Stenosis
- Spondylolisthesis
